Public transport in Amsterdam:

You need a so called OV chip card

If you don't have one you pay triple the price.

You can purchase the card at the central station in Amsterdam or at Schiphol.

Costs for the card are € 7,50. You can put credit on the card with your own debit card.

You use the OV chip card by checking in and out at the yellow machines in Bus, tram or Metro.

Traveling to Amsterdam

If you arrive at the airport Schiphol, take the train to Amsterdam Central Station.

The train station is situated under the main hall of Schiphol.

The Westcord Art Hotel Amsterdam is reachable from the Central Station with bus 22.

The ClinkNoord is reachable by ferry.

Take the exit on the river side and turn left. Take the ferry to Buiksloterweg. They sail every 5 minutes. Also at night with a lower frequency.

From Buiksloterweg it is a 5 minutes walk to Clink Noord.. Turn left when you leave the ferry, turn right after the bridge and after ± 100 meter is the hotel.

The Amstelkerk is in the very centre of Amsterdam near the Rijksmuseum.

Half an hour walk from the central station or reachable with tram nr 4

The Bimhuis is near the Central Station towards the east side of the same river.

Take the footbridge and enter the "Muziekgebouw" follow the signs to the Bimhuis.

If you have additional questions feel free to ask preferably to Rutger van Otterloo.

ENJOY!
